Worldwide Congresses

For more than twenty years worldwide congresses for persons with disabilities have been events for empowerment and tools for inclusive development. To date, thirty congresses have been held worldwide, presenting persons with disabilities as activists. Sustainable impact has been achieved in different regions and societies. Thousands of individuals have joined together to create a worldwide congress movement. Disability enables the creation of communities for all people.

We want to continue organizing these events, and for this we need your help. Support the social artists of our time: persons with disabilities!

The Congress Impulse

In many countries, the daily lives of persons with disabilities are still characterised by discrimination and intolerance. They hardly ever get the chance to exchange ideas with other people in similar situations and to communicate their needs, interests and abilities to the public. At our congresses persons with disabilities take an active part. Therefore, these events are an effective way to bring the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities into real life. Changes in society's attitude can be achieved by involving the civil society, authorities, academic community and media. In many countries, congresses led to sustainable improvement of the living conditions of people with disabilities.

Worldwide Congresses

In the last 20 years, seven big congresses with up to 700 participants were held in Europe under the slogan "Living in the Encounter". During 10 years, numerous congresses took place in South America and Asia, so that in some countries there were several events at different locations. Due to the fact that people from neighbouring countries were always invited, the interest to hold new congresses is always growing. In 2017 the First World Congress even took place in Russia with participants from all continents and with different types of disabilities. At www.socialartist.events you will find articles, photos and films about these events. These materials will help you experience the significance and value of our projects for an inclusive society.

Future Projects

Preparations for future congresses in Europe, Africa, Asia and America are already in progress. The Second World Congress is also in preparation. Whether these projects will be realized, however, depends, above all, on the financial means. Since many events take place in so-called developing countries, the financial resources are extremely limited. Will it be possible to convince enough people to help, so that congresses could be realised? New projects will always be published on the website and sponsors will be informed about them first. The organisation socialartist.support e.V. in Berlin supports the global expansion of this congress impulse, which has been carried out as an individual initiative since 1998. Get active and join a worldwide congress community. Future participants will be extremely grateful to you!
